An Off Day for the Californians. NEW YORK, September 30th.—Betting was not allowed by the police at Jerome was not allowed by the police at Jerome Park to-day, and the races were run off without speculation, except a few private wagers that were picked up. It is probable that after Saturday next the meeting may be discontinued, as, according to the political situation at present, some of the Police Commissioners—and hence the police force are driven as a matter of self-protection. —are driven, as a matter of self-protection, to actively oppose even private betting. Five more bookmakers were arrested today for making small wagers. THE RACES. In the first race to-day, a handicap at seven furlongs, the California interests were represented by Baldwin's Estrella. Fen others started. Stonebuck was first away to a good start, with Harefoot second, and Herbert third. The last named, however, at once took the track, and on foot well up. A desperate finish ensued, but Herbert stayed in front and won by a length, Grenadier second, the same distance in front of Stonebuck, with Harefoot Estrella was never in the hunt, and finished last. No time was taken, but the race was a fast one from end to end. the race was a fast one from end to end.

For the two-year-old race the Fairfax stable started Parasol. Rebellion took the track after the field got well under way, and got a lead of two lengths on the first quarter, followed by Straightlace, Freedom and Parasol. Reappearing from behind the hill, Rebellion had a lead of four lengths, with Freedom and Parasol next, close together. From this point out it was a fast one for that the hostiles should surrender upon their own terms."

For the Grand National Stake, one and one-half miles, Baldwin started Lucky B., and Haggin Hidalgo. Seven others started.

Alf Estell made the running for the first mile, with Hidalgo, Lucky B. and Rupert his closest attendants. At the quarter pole Alf Estell shut up like a jack-knife, and from a lead of two lengths dropped back to last. As the field disappeared behind the hill, Rupert led a half length, with Favor second, a half length in front of Tenbooker. When they reappeared, Wickham was in front, with Rupert second, Tenbooker third and Favor fourth and beaten. From this point out Wickham stayed in front, this point out Wickham stayed in front, and although Heel-and-Toe made a strong bid in the stretch, Wickham won cleverly by a length and a half, Heel-and Toe sec-ond, two lengths in front of Rupert. first away, with Preciosa second. Editor, however, at once went up to Buckstone, and raced with him to the quarter pole, where Editor took the lead. When they reappeared from behind the hill Editor led by three parts of a length, with Buckstone second, a length in front of Preciosa, and Sapphire and Valet next. When straightened out for home Sapphire and Valet drew away from the others, and at the seven-furlong pole Valet got clear and won by a length and a half, Sapphire second, two lengths in front of Editor. Preciosa was sixth, and Solid Silver, who was never in the hunt, finished ninth. Time, 2:05.

New York, September 30th.—The Com-tercial in an editorial says: We ask the consideration a proposition to allow certain tribes of Indians in the West the privilege fe, in law and freedom and in their own right to lay by their savings for the benefit of their wives and children, and consider these things: That Henry George is in fact the Tammany candidate for Mayor; that his canvass, by a corrupt deal, is intended to sell out the labor vote to the speculators and the spoilsmen of Tammany Hall, and that he or his sponsers have brought hither to work for him the English Socialist, Aveling, who has no possible interest in the welfare of this city, but is concerned solely with the promotion of his scheme for turning society upside down, destroying our ight to lay by their savings for the benefit with the promotion of his scheme for turning society upside down, destroying our free institutions and overthrowing civilizations. tion itself, in order that "chaos may come again." St. Louis, September 20th,—The Knights of Labor in the West, and more particularly those in St. Louis, have decided that strikes like the boycott must go, and that it should no longer be recognized as a neces-sity of the Order. Their hands, legs, feet, arms and pieces of skulls, backbones and charred bits of flesh were scattered in every direction, from five hundred to six hundred feet from the packing-house. Max Cruger, fireman of the works, says the explosion was caused by two men shooting into the building. After the explosion the lower timbers of the building took fire and burned fiercely. The ground around for half a mile was strewn with fragments of the dead, splinters, packing paper, etc. The violence of the explosion shook houses in Bartow, across the creek from Bay Chester. Many windows in the from Bay Chester. Many windows in the hotel at Pelham Bridge, over a mile away, were shattered. At West Chester the windows in many of the houses were broken.

The concussion was felt at New Haven, Port Jefferson, Bridgeport and other places. The people generally thought that Wiggins' earthquake had come. Geronimo's Surrender

Washington, September 30th.—General Miles' annual report, embodying the story of the surrender of Geronimo, has been received by the Acting Secretary of War. General Miles, it is said, reports that he accepted the surrender of the savage chieftain agreeing, among the conditions, that he should not be surrendered to the civil support of the savage chieftain agreeing among the conditions, that he should not be surrendered to the civil support of the savage chieftain agreeing. authorities of Arizona for trial, and that he should be taken away from that vicinity.

MILES DISOBEYED ORDERS. This accounts for General Miles' failure to obey the instructions of the War Department—to confine the hostiles at the nearest post. The Star says: "The fact that General Miles accepted a conditional surrende when the positive instructions of the Gov ernment were that nothing but capture or however, at once took the track, and on disappearing behind the hill led a length, with Stonebuck second, a neck in front of Grenadier, Harefoot fourth. A desperate finish enough an unconditional surrender should deterpected. The report shows that the hostiles never before have been driven to such a stage of desperation, and that they could not have stood out against the troops much longer; but, nevertheless, the War Depart ment would undoubtedly have preferred the Indian war to last another year rather than that the hostiles should surrender

For the Grand Neigonal State

Washington, September 30th.—The official report of Geronimo's capture was received from General Miles to-day, and there is great doubt whether the Brigadieringht General gets as much glory out of it at the War Department as he has from the countoindictments against him, charging him try at large. General Miles had strict with misappropriation of funds of a bank, orders to make Geronimo's surrender un. Buckstone was The War Department not only astonished, but angry at what they term the assumption of authority by General Miles, and he will be called strictly to account for the position he has taken. General Miles' action has given General Crook's friends an opportunity to criticise the War Department again for his removal from the southern comficients. mand, and it is stated that he had several opportunities to secure Geronimo on a conditional surrender; but, remembering his orders from the department, refrained from accepting the same. If he had cared to disobey orders, as Miles has done, Crook's friends say he could have had the chief of the Chiracahuas long months ago.

DESPICABLE METHODS. When the Democratic Administration assumed power, it was with the cry in its mouth, "Turn the rascals out." Now, as Mr. Sherman, in his Mansfield speech asked, is it not about time to have the many times been imposed upon by his own ity and abuse will create disgust. party, and appointed those to office whom he has been soon compelled to remove for moral cause, incompetency or misfeasance? We do not refer to these matters to make partisan capital, since we are strongly inclined to belief in the honest intentions of the President and the sincerity of his civil service reform protestations. But we do refer to it, to awaken the attention of thoughtful citizens to the hollowness of political vituperation, and to campaign buncombe. All this rot about "turning rascals out," and "opening the books," and such, is disgusting. If there is a Republican who in office abuses his trust, it is not because he is a Republican but because he is bad as a man. If there is a Democrat servants betrays the confidence reposed in him. Let us be honest with ourselves, Democrats, Republicans and all others, and confess that this constant iterapaign and political inflation by partisan gas. Let the policy to be pursued by the nation be determined upon lines that run on levels immeasurably above vulgar papsucking and feeding at official troughs, and rise superior to the despicable methods so the votes of men by indulgence in vituperation. THE TRUTH ABOUT IT. Mr. Swift contracted with San Francisco to take up her cause against the Spring Valley Water Company. The contract was made with a Democratic city adminislong been given over by San Francisco. Mr. Swift went into it with all his accustomed vigor. He won the suit, and San Francisco was saved a half a million of dollars. But the contract must needs be confirmed by the Legislature of the State before San Francisco could pay the laborer the agreed hire. So a Democratic Legislature was asked to pass the necessary enticket in Sacramento county.

That Legislature, Democratic nearly through and through, passed the necessary enaction and through and through and through and through and through and through passed the necessary enaction along the short of the whole transaction, about which the San Francisco Examiner believes it is making such a tremendous amount of political capital. There was not a thing in the whole matter that did not reflect credit upon Mr. Swift, and of which San Francisco did, can or ever will complain. If

THE SURPLUS.

The distribution of the "surplus" is a question about to be revived. To parcel is out among the States, subject to recall by ceives the full Associated Press dispatches from the Federal Government, is bad. It was all parts of the world. Outside of San Fran- tried fifty years ago and proved a source of infinite trouble. To get rid of it by leveling the tariff will not be agreed to by the Republican party and the great industrial forces of the country. The proposition to put the Government into the market as a ouyer of bonds is bad as it would enhance the premium. The one scheme nost likely to meet with a large share of popular approval is that to expend a porion of the surplus-so called-in demanded public improvements. The waterways, over which the Federal Government s bound to exercise guardianship, can well engage a large portion of the surplus, in reserving navigation and preventing the estruction of rivers. The Sacramento iver deserves to have several million udiciously expended by the Federal Government on it. Such expenditure would re sult in the broadest benefits and immeasurable public good. The coast and harbor efenses of the country are woefully inadequate, and as a permanent investment several millions may be wisely expended in this direction. The rehabilitation of the navy is an absolute necessity and would swallow a large portion of the annual surplus for a period of years.

HERR VON LIEBKNECHT and Dr. Avelng and wife have not made the profound apression in New York that was anticipated. In fact the distinguished German ocialist has arrayed all the trade unions against Socialism, by denouncing the forner as inferior in all respects, and calcuated to keep the down-trodden free Amer cans forever in the condition of sovereigns. Their members, he declared, ought come out and unite in the socialistic work, which means "the division of everything among everybody." The trades nion people do not take kindly to this loctrine, and denounce Liebknecht for atempting to stir up strife. Especially ungry are they over his assault upon coperative efforts. The men in the trade nions are, as a rule, more intelligent regarding the American system than Herr Liebknecht. They understand how infin itely superior is free government and dem ocratic principles to the license and aban don of Socialism. They know that no system in the world can open up for them such opportunities as does the American and they are wholly unwilling to give countenance to any patent or new or old fangled theories that assail it.

THE Santa Barbara Independent protests against lying in the campaign, and says: "What does a Republican orator expect "rascals" pointed out who have been put to gain by describing all Democrats as dis-"out," or who remain "in?" Where, in loyal, or a Democratic orator calculate to all the list of removals by President Cleve- make by depicting all Republicans as corland, or by his appointees, has there been rapt." NOTES AND COMMENTS.

It is all very well for our Democratic riends to assume a strong front and talk oud about carrying the State in November ut what are the signs of the times when "the faithful" are dying for office, but won't take nominations?

The Chicago Inter-Ocean says: "Since he days when Noah pulled the animals nto the ark, no party has ever had such lifficulty in pulling candidates into the traces as the Democrats of Chicago are havraces as the Democrats of Chicago in the ling just now. They get them up to the door, but then the 'bucking' begins, and eats the record of an army mule.' Sacramento Democrats can beat the Chicago Bourbons out of sight. They can't even get them up to the door here.

The RECORD-UNION a short time since innocently started out to collect the names and addresses of the nominees for Governor heading the tickets of the various parties in California for 1886. Several sheets of paper have already been exhausted in the prosecution of the task, and there are several counties and Conventions still to hear from. From the present outlook, the list cannot be given with any assurance that it s complete until somewhere about the first l'uesday in November.

The Examiner publishes, with a terrific peading, a long article intended to show that the California Republicans are "all broken up" on account of the strength of the Democratic ticket. This is amusing enough in itself, but when it proceeds to point out the bolters it did a foolish thing, for they would be a supported by the contract of the contract o for they won't materialize in the Deno-cratic direction. Rev. Tubbs said a notable feature of the labor troubles was that the members of the trades unions were largely foreigners, and most of the skilled workmen bore foreign names. A Terrible Death Scene. The Mountain Echo, published at Annear Sheep ranch, has just been received.

Mrs. Daggatt, who was the mother of three elpless little children, and whose husband is an employe in one of the mines in that ection, and who was at work at the time of the unfortunate woman's death, returned home every Sunday to visit his family after the toils of the week, found a converted Russian Jew, addressed the meeting in a very earnest and effective manner. The trend of his remarks was a deep and forcible plea for active efforts to deep and forcible plea for active efforts to his three little children secreted through his three little children secreted through and manner strongly testified to his sincerity.

Payment of Railroad Taxes.

The "railroad monopoly" takes an extraordinary method of oppressing the people of Santa Clara county. A decision of the Supreme Court released the Southern and Central Pacific Railroad Companies from the necessity of paying taxes, and yet the bloated monopoly insists upon making a storage for coin of our county treasury A short time ago it forced our people to re ceive $11,000 that we had no legal power of obtaining, and yesterday repeated its discriminating and oppressive outrage by adding $17,034 65. Although this sum will aid in paying off the Lick avenue bonds, and reduce the assessment of the taxpayers resident in the county, it is quite in order to have a mass meeting and protest against the hitherto unheard of thing of a corporation voluntarily contributing taxes to the amount of over $28,000 to a county in the sence of legal necessity to do so. If soulless, there seems to be a sense of justice in some corporations. The Examiner remarked yesterday that "the Democratic party of California sharply represents the spirit of antagonism to corporate greed and arrogance, and as no other State has more keenly felt the presence of the yoke, the people will be quick to recognize their champion and opportunity." This forcing of money into our county treasury affords an opening for the "champion and oppor-tunity" business that should not be missed by the Democracy of the Stockton Convention stripe.—San Jose Mercury.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE,

A week or two ago, Mrs. Johnson, who because of her frequently getting boisterously drunk, has been termed by the police "The terror from Denver," came to the city from her home in an upper county, with her husband and daughter, the latter aged 12 years. During the vote for Police Judge at the City Democratic Convention on Wednesday, Al. Toland asked to be allowed to cast a vote for Judge Henry for one of the absent delegates, saying that he had the absentee's verbal proxy to do so. Several delegates present testified to the truth of Mr. Toland's statement. He was not allowed to do so, the Chair holding that nothing but written proxies would be allowed. Henry Dehn arose and asked if the large number of absentees that had been voted for Judge Galloway were upon written proxies. He was assured by Chairman Hinkson and the Secretary of the Convention that all proxies voted were filed in writing at the clerk's desk. Upon this statement the verbal proxy held by Toland was ruled out. Yesterday, W. C. Smith, a watchman a the State Capitol, came to this office and stated that he saw by the Record-Union that he had been voted by Mark Foster for Judge Galloway. He said: "I stepped out of the room for a moment, the vote was taken during my absence, and Mark Foster voted for me. He had no right to do so; he held no proxy, either verbal or written: and what is more, he knew that I had a decided preference for Judge Henry, and under no circumstance would I have ond under no circumstance would I have voted for Galloway, or allowed my proxy to go into any one's hand except that it be voted for Judge Henry."

Murder Cases Continued for the Term. In Judge Van Fleet's Court yesterday the case of Milton McWhorter, charged with the murder of T. G. Robinson, was continued for the term, owing to the illness of defendant's wife. It was also shown by affidavits that the defendant had been compelled to secure new counsel, Hon. C. W. Cross having abandoned the case, and Judge Craddock, being an important wit-ness for the defense, it was deemed advisable that he should not appear in the case as an attorney. Thomas & Hurst, of Woodland, the attorneys now representing McWhorter, have come into the case so recome thoroughly acquainted with it.

The case of Josephine Wiezel, accused of the murder of Jacob Klein, was also continued for the term, owing to the illness of Changes on the S. and P. Railroad. A change in the manner of running trains on the Sacramento and Placerville Railroad goes into effect to-day, by which the freight and accommodation train will run through to Shingle Springs, instead of only to Folsom. It will leave this city at 3:10 r. m., instead of at 4 o'clock, as hereto-fore, and arrive here at 10:40 A. m., instead of 9:40. The passenger train will leave at 7:30 A. M., as usual, but reach Shingle Springs twenty-five minutes earlier than it has been doing, being able to make better time because of the mixed train running through to Shingle Springs and taking the way freight, and arrive here on its return at 1:55 p. M., instead of 2:35 p. M.

Considerable correspondence took place before they were able to secure their personal property. Major-General Stoneman wrote several letters to Captain William J. Gayer, Confederate commandant, who, it seems, at all times treated the prisoners under his charge with all the consideration he could, consistent with his position. He is at this time a distinguished attorney-at-law in the city of Charleston, and one of the sufferers from the late terrible earthquake.

A few days ago Governor Stoneman was surprised on the receipt of the following letter from Captain Gayer, which is self-explanatory:

CHARLESTON, September 10, 1886.

DEAR GENERAL: Going into my ruined library, on Wednesday last, among the papers which were scattered over the floor, I found the inclosed note, written to me by you very nearly twenty two years ago. That is a long time and I cannot depict the horrors of the terrible visitation which has come upon us. The most vivid imagination cannot exaggerate the appalling nature of the calamity which has overtaken us.

The press of the country has given as full reports as it is possible for them to do, but there is much that as yet is unknown and unseen, and time only can develop the real and true condition of our fated city. Since 1860 it has been the scene of disaster, trouble and calamity, almost continuously. War, conflagration, vermin, storms, floods, and now this last frightful visitation has almost unnerved the stoutest of us. My residence was rendered untenatable by the first shock, my family seeking fancied safety in the rear of my lot, where they remained for several days and nights on the earth under such slender shelter as our blankets and household effects would afford. They are now refugeeing with some of our kind and more fortunate friends a few miles distant from the city.

My office, which was in the old United States Court-house, is buried beneath a pile of debris nearly twenty feet in depth, the entire building being crushed. The United States engineers have ordered the ruins removed. My chief object now is to get my house water-tight, so that my family may have shelter from the winds and rain of the approaching winter. The outlook to the poor of Charleston presents trials which appear almost insurmountable.

I thank God that our lives were spared; all else seems insignificant. My good old mother, now pleasing recitation "The Little Hero," by Miss Annie Davis; a piano solo, "Banks of Allan Water," executed with fine judgment by Miss Gertie Gerrish; tenor solo, "The Lighthouse on the Sea," by R. Her voice is strong and well cultivated, her gestures perfection itself. Mrs. Hansbrow sangthe "Gypsy Song" most excellently, and was warmly applauded. At the close of this excellent programme the room was cleared for dancing, and the lovers of the terpsichorean art indulged in that pleasurable sport to their hearts' content. They are harmless for all ages and conditions.

CATILE DYING.—During the past week quite a number of cattle have died within a radius of eight miles from Independence. Aged cows and fat young animals have died. One party reports having skinned a young steer that had died; around the neck and loins, just under the skin, the flesh was bloody and looked as if the animal had been and looked as if the ani
